ever, and will not discuss the forthcoming appointment.

The call to the operators for an emergency meeting is regarded here as a forerunner of an effort to induce the President to revise the scale of coal prices as soon as the permanent coal policy is perfected. In fact, is is very probable that the Pittsburgh meeting will appoint a committee on coal production to present their claims.

Watches Fereral Trade Board For several days the President has given his attention almost entirely to the work the Federal Trade Comthe work the Federal Trade Comthe call for the operators' meeting, are the work the Federal Trade Commission is doing. Officials with whom he has consulted are of the opinion that a definite price policy will be formulated in the very near future. Coal probably will be finally disposed of first and steel next.

The Trade Commission's steel investigation revealed that it will be almost impossible to fix a price for steel, as was done in the case of coal. Varying costs in different plants make it impracticable, it is said, to make a flat price, and, too, costs are continually changing. The plan most favored by the Trade Commission members is one under which the government would de-MASHING Conference with the Federal the chief disadvantage of this suging prices on steel and other materials as it now has in the case of coal.

Anthracite To Be Taken Up

To extend the government's control wer coal the President yet has to fix ituminous wholesale and retail prices and must issue regulations governing distribution and apportionment as be-tween different parts of the country. Anthracite, too, it is understood, will be taken up, and prices fixed through-out the industry. At present anthra-cite prices at the mines are kept down under a voluntary arrangement reached some months ago by the producers with the Federal Trade Commission, but no way has been adopted for dealing with wholesalers and retailers.

Extension of coal control will bring with it, it is understood, the appointment of a coal administrator, whose ment of a coal administrator, whose relation to the coal industry will be about the same as that of Herbert Hoover to the production and distribution of foods. So far the name of H. A. Garfield, president of Williams College, is the only one that has been mentioned for the place.

President Wilson, it was said to-night is greatly pleased with the pro-gress made by the Trade Commission in its investigations and hopes to set-tle the price question soon.

Coal Operators Plan To Fight Price Scale Fixed by President

[Special Correspondence]
WAHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The coal operators of the country met in the office of the Coal Production Committee to-day and called a meeting of all bituminous operators in the United States to discuss the abnormal conditions they are asked to labor under by tions they are asked to labor under by virtue of the President's price-fixing decree of yesterday.

The operators' meeting is set for Pittsburgh next Wednesday. It was ordered by the National Association of Coal Operators, which perfected an organization this morning, with H. N. Taylor, of Kansas City, as chairman. While the operators were diplomatic in the language of their call, they gave utterance to private protests against some of the tentative prices for various coal producing districts fixed by the coal producing districts fixed by the President. The West Virginia opera-tors were particularly exercised. E. V. Knight, one of the operators who attended to-day's meeting, said:
"The price scale for West Virginia

Last year the navy consumed 1,000,000 tons of coal, paying for it $2.85 delivered at Hampton Roads. It is expected that, under the President's decree, the navy will pay more this year, but not $1.50 per ton more as proposed by the coal committee.

When the dispute with the coal operators crystallized, Secretary Dantels announced that the Navy Department would pay $2.33 per ton, holding that sum would not only pay the cost of production but yield the operators a fair profit. The price of $2.33 was decided upon after an investigation of the cost of production at the mines by the Federal Trade Commission.

The coal committee's recommendation was $2.95 at the would be a patriotic thing for him to step aside in this food situation. The upstate people do not want him."

"Last year about 500,000,000 tons of bituminous coal were mined, and this year the output will probably be larger. But about 90 per cent of this is sold far in advance by contracts, and only 10 per cent at the most will be available to the buyer in the open market. That means that the majority of bituminous coal tuyers will continue to use coal at the higher rate for which they contracted, and the coal dealers won't be hit by the new low prices very much for about a year. The consensus of opinion among the operators seems to be that there will be an extremely small profit in $2 coal. If this is true, the mining of coal will be discouraged by the fixing of prices, when the crying WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The President by executive order to-day transferred the Administration control of exports from the Exports Council, of which Secretary Redfield of the Department of Commerce was chairman, to the administrative board of the council, which is headed by Vance C. Illinois Retail Coal Prices Are Promptly Cut

After a careful study of results rethe field, the Home Economics Depart-ment of the State College of Ariculture recommends as the surest way of canning peas, beans, corn, pumpkin, squash, greens and asparagus the use of the intermittent, or three-day, method of sterilization, instead of the method of sterilization, instead of the continuous, or one period, method, except where steam pressure is used.

These particular vegetables require special treatment, for three reasons: They are closely packed and therefore difficult to penetrate by heat; they lack the acid which protects tomatoes and the fruits from bacterial attack, and they are likely to have on them certain soil bacteria, which form resistance spores. These spores are often diffi-soil bacteria, which form resistance spores. These spores are often difficult to destroy by boiling in the water bath, even for a long continued period. A case is reported on good authority in which active bacteria were found in corn which had been boiled continuously in the water bath for twelve

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.-The Consumers' Company, of Chicago, said to be one of the largest retail coal dealers in the world, to-day announced a slash of from $1 to $1.80 on soft coal, effective immediately. This is in line with the price fixed by President Wilson. Other dealers will make similar cuts at once, it was said. It was estimated the reductions would cut Chicago's coal bill by $30,000,000.

It was announced that coke had been increased 10 cents a ton, the change having been due to increased production costs which would have forced the raise September 1 in any event.

Illinois officially recognized prices for coal in this state, fixed by President Wilson, when Governor Prank O.

dent Wilson, when Governor Frank O.
Lowden to-day telegraphed congratulations to the President on his action.
The Governor's telegram says:
"Please accept my heartiest congratulations upon your action yesterday in the coal matter. You have saved America from a situation which would have greatly embarrassed us in the sonduct of this war, such as has embarrassed every belligerent nation of Europe."

The intermittent method of sterilization calls for boiling the vegetables in the water bath after they have been placed in the jars an hour each day for three days. This allows alternate periods of rest, in which the dormant resistance spores may lay off their heavy protective wall and begin active growth. In the growing state the bacteria are easily destroyed by the next period of boiling. For quart and two quart jars a daily boiling of one and a half to two hours is recommended.
